

My apartment

Hey everybody! I'm really excited for you all to be here! It will be a great time and I hope we all have fun. That being said, here are a few things to note about my apartment:

- If you're planning on driving, it's pretty hard to find parking in my neighborhood let alone my street. I don't drive myself so I don't really have any advice to give you
- This place is very, very old. To the point that a lot of shit (walls, floor, ceiling, doors, chairs, etc.) is simply falling apart so please be gentle!
 - A note about the doors, most don't really work and the back bathroom door which most if not all of you will be using doesn't even close properly so good luck there :)
- The electric system here is terrible and not up to code at all. It's sad but unfortunately there's nothing I can do about it especially because the landlord hates me
 - Do NOT use the toaster and the microwave simultaneously- it will blow the fuse and you'll have to replace it manually
 - Regarding blow driers, hair curlers, and that kind of thing- they will probably blow the fuse as well unless you're not using anything else in the apartment. Please please please try not to use them. If you're looking to dry your hair somehow I have fans for that haha. Vlad fucks out here
 - Please don't use the air conditioning in the back bedroom unless you absolutely need it. It takes up a lot of power and also jacks up my electricity bill like no other
 - Replacing a fuse is a huge hassle and involves a ladder, remind me to show you how to do that just in case the power goes out and I'm at work or something
- I should be able to provide bedding and comfortable sleeping arrangements for everybody but please try to bring your own towel
- I have a washing machine but no dryer (I hang dry all of my clothes) so if you need to do a bit of laundry that shouldn't be a problem. There's also a laundromat a few minutes away
- There is a lot of dust here so please come prepared if you are allergic or something. I'll try to clean as best as I can beforehand but I can only do so much
- Try not to leave food out- we don't want ants or any other visitors
- Please just be tidy in general!

Yes, this place may seem to have a lot of problems but it's quite large, in an amazing neighborhood and because of the glory of rent control, insanely cheap! I'm looking forward for you all to get here and let me know if you have any questions!
